Appendix — finding detail

Art. 5 — Principles relating to processing

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.2 – Principles

Severity: warning Status: partial

Score: 28/100

Risk: medium

Gaps

- The policy does not explicitly address data minimization, ensuring that data collected is adequate, relevant, and limited to what is necessary for the stated purposes.
- The policy does not explicitly detail provisions for accurate data, including steps to rectify or erase inaccurate personal data without delay.
- The policy does not explicitly mention 'storage limitation', stating how long personal data is kept and under what conditions it can be retained for longer periods.
- The policy does not contain explicit statements on 'accountability', demonstrating how compliance with data protection principles is ensured and maintained.

Notes

The policy addresses transparency by stating commitment to transparency and providing choices about data. It also touches upon purpose limitation by stating data is collected for services. However, it lacks explicit mentions of data minimization, accuracy, storage limitation, and accountability principles as outlined in Article 5. The policy also doesn't clearly state the specific purposes for data collection, only general uses related to the service. User control over data is mentioned, which implies some level of lawfulness and fairness, but these are not explicitly stated as principles.

Art. 6 — Lawfulness of processing

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.2 – Principles

Severity: critical Status: fail

Score: 0/100

Risk: critical

Gaps

- No lawful basis for processing has been stated in the provided policy text.

Notes

The policy does not specify the lawful basis for processing personal data as required by GDPR Article 6. This is a critical gap.

Art. 7 — Conditions for consent

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.2 – Principles

Severity: warning Status: partial

Score: 36/100

Risk: medium

Gaps

- The policy does not explicitly state that consent requests must be clearly distinguishable from other matters in an intelligible and easily accessible form, using clear and plain language.
- The policy does not provide information on the mechanism for withdrawing consent, or state that it should be as easy to withdraw as to give consent.
- The policy does not address whether the performance of a contract is conditional on consent to processing of personal data not necessary for that contract, which is relevant for assessing if consent is freely given.

Notes

The policy mentions that users have choices about the information they provide on their profile and that it is their choice whether to include sensitive information and make it public. It also states that users give other data by syncing their address book or calendar and that personal data is collected when users provide, post, or upload it to the services. However, the policy does not explicitly detail the conditions for consent as required by GDPR Article 7, specifically regarding the clarity of consent requests, the ease of withdrawal, and the conditionality of consent on contractual performance.

Art. 8 — Child's consent

Priority: p3 Chapter: Ch.2 – Principles
Severity: critical Status: missing
Score: 0/100
Notes

The policy does not contain any information regarding age verification mechanisms or parental consent for children's data processing. The provided text focuses on general data collection, usage, and sharing practices for adult users.

Art. 9 — Special category data

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.2 – Principles
Severity: warning Status: partial
Score: 52/100
Risk: high
Gaps

- Explicit consent or Art.9(2) derogation for special category data processing is not explicitly stated.

Notes

The policy mentions that it is the user's choice to include sensitive information on their profile and make it public. However, it does not specify the requirements for explicit consent or any of the derogations under Article 9(2) of the GDPR for processing such data, if it were to be processed. This could lead to non-compliance if special category data is processed without the necessary legal basis.

Art. 10 — Criminal convictions data

Priority: p3 Chapter: Ch.2 – Principles
Severity: critical Status: missing

Art. 11 — Processing without identification

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.2 – Principles

Severity: warning Status: partial

Score: 52/100

Risk: low

Gaps

- The policy does not explicitly state whether LinkedIn processes data without identification, nor does it detail procedures for cases where identification is not required or possible for specific processing purposes.

Notes

The policy does not contain information relevant to Article 11 of the GDPR, which deals with processing without identification. Therefore, compliance cannot be fully assessed based on the provided text.

Art. 12 — Transparency & modalities

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.3 – Rights of data subjects

Severity: critical Status: fail

Score: 0/100

Risk: critical

Gaps

- Response time commitment
- Information provided free of charge

Notes

The policy text does not contain information regarding the response time commitment for data subject requests, nor does it state that information provided will be free of charge. This is a critical risk because GDPR Article 12(3) mandates a response within one month, and Article 12(5) requires information to be provided free of charge unless requests are manifestly unfounded or excessive. The policy does mention notification and modification of the Privacy Policy when data collection or usage changes materially, which addresses transparency to some extent, but not the response modalities for data subject rights.

Art. 13 — Info collected from data subject

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.3 – Rights of data subjects

Severity: warning Status: partial

Score: 10/100

Risk: high

Gaps

- Controller ID
- DPO contact details
- Legal basis for processing
- Data retention period
- Recipients of personal data
- Data subject rights summary
- Right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority
- Information about automated decision-making, including profiling

Evidence

- you provide data to create an account with us

Notes

The policy mentions that LinkedIn Ireland or LinkedIn Corporation will be the controller, but does not provide specific contact details for either. The DPO contact details are not mentioned. The legal basis for processing, data retention period, recipients of personal data, and a summary of data subject rights are not explicitly detailed in the provided text. The policy does not mention the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority or information about automated decision-making, including profiling.

Art. 14 — Info not obtained from data subject

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.3 – Rights of data subjects

Severity: warning Status: partial

Score: 10/100

Risk: high

Gaps

- The policy does not specify the identity and contact details of the controller and, where applicable, of the controller's representative.
- The policy does not specify the contact details of the data protection officer, where applicable.
- The policy does not specify the purposes of the processing for which the personal data are intended as well as the legal basis for the processing.
- The policy does not specify the categories of personal data concerned.
- The policy does not specify the recipients or categories of recipients of the personal data, if any.
- The policy does not specify where applicable, that the controller intends to transfer personal data to a recipient in a third country or international organisation and the existence or absence of an adequacy decision by the Commission, or in the case of transfers referred to in Article 46 or 47, or the second subparagraph of Article 49(1), reference to the appropriate or suitable safeguards and the means to obtain a copy of them or where they have been made available.
- The policy does not specify the period for which the personal data will be stored, or if that is not possible, the criteria used to determine that period.
- The policy does not specify where the processing is based on point (f) of Article 6(1), the legitimate interests pursued by the controller or by a third party.

Notes

The policy mentions that data is collected through cookies and similar technologies, and that some data is provided by organizations (e.g., employers) for premium services. This indicates that personal data may not always be obtained directly from the data subject. However, the policy does not provide the specific information required by Article 14(1) and 14(2) of the GDPR for data obtained indirectly. Therefore, the status is partial.

Art. 15 — Right of access

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.3 – Rights of data subjects

Severity: warning Status: partial

Score: 28/100

Risk: high

Gaps

- The policy does not describe the process for submitting a Subject Access Request (SAR).
- The policy does not specify the timeline for responding to SARs.
- The policy does not mention the process for identity verification for SARs.
- The policy does not detail what information will be provided as part of an SAR response.

Notes

The policy mentions that users have choices about data collection and use, and that personal data is subject to the privacy policy. However, it does not explicitly describe the process for data subjects to exercise their right of access under GDPR Article 15, including the submission process, response timelines, identity verification, or the scope of information provided.

Art. 16 — Right to rectification

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.3 – Rights of data subjects

Severity: warning Status: partial

Score: 52/100

Risk: medium

Gaps

- The policy does not specify that rectification must be done 'without undue delay' or provide equivalent wording.

Notes

The policy does not explicitly state that the right to rectification must be exercised 'without undue delay' or provide equivalent wording as required by GDPR Article 16. It is unclear if there is a defined timeframe for rectifying inaccurate personal data.

Art. 17 — Right to erasure

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.3 – Rights of data subjects

Severity: warning Status: partial

Score: 36/100

Risk: high

Gaps

- The policy does not describe the process for handling deletion requests.
- The policy does not outline any grounds for refusal of deletion requests.
- The policy does not mention any exceptions to deletion, such as retention periods or legal obligations.

Notes

The policy mentions that they collect data and use it for various purposes, but it does not provide any information on how data subjects can request the deletion of their personal data, nor does it specify the grounds for refusal or any exceptions to the right to erasure. This leaves a gap in the process for fulfilling Article 17 requests.

Art. 18 — Right to restriction

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.3 – Rights of data subjects

Severity: warning Status: partial

Score: 52/100

Risk: medium

Gaps

- The policy does not explicitly describe the right to restriction of processing, such as what happens when the accuracy of personal data is contested, processing is unlawful, data is no longer needed by the controller but required by the data subject for legal claims, or when a data subject has objected to processing pending verification of legitimate grounds.

Notes

The policy does not explicitly describe the right to restriction of processing. It is unclear if the company has mechanisms in place to handle requests for restriction of processing under the various conditions outlined in GDPR Article 18.

Art. 20 — Right to data portability

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.3 – Rights of data subjects

Severity: warning Status: partial

Score: 36/100

Risk: medium

Gaps:

- The policy does not explicitly mention the right to receive personal data in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format.
- The policy does not explicitly mention the right to transmit data to another controller without hindrance.
- The policy does not explicitly mention the right to have data transmitted directly from one controller to another where technically feasible.

Art. 21 — Right to object

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.3 – Rights of data subjects

Severity: warning Status: partial

Score: 52/100

Risk: medium

Gaps

- Policy does not explicitly state how users can object to profiling or direct marketing. It mentions 'opt out' from certain tracking and ad targeting but lacks specifics on the objection right for direct marketing and profiling.

Evidence

- For Visitors, the controls are here .

Notes

The policy mentions 'opt out' mechanisms for tracking and ad targeting, which can be related to direct marketing and profiling. However, it does not explicitly detail the right to object to processing based on Article 6(1)(e) or (f), nor does it clearly outline the process for objecting to direct marketing and profiling as required by Article 21. Art. 22 — Automated decision-making

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.3 – Rights of data subjects

Severity: warning Status: partial

Score: 36/100

Risk: high

Gaps

- The policy does not state whether individuals have the right not to be subject to automated decision-making, including profiling, that produces legal effects or similarly significant effects.
- The policy does not specify the conditions under which automated decision-making may be used (e.g., contract necessity, legal authorization, or explicit consent).

- The policy does not outline the measures in place to safeguard the rights and freedoms of individuals when automated decision-making is used, particularly regarding the right to human intervention, expressing a point of view, and contesting a decision.

Notes

The policy mentions the use of automated systems and inferences to personalize services and ads. However, it does not address Article 22 requirements regarding the right not to be subject to automated decision-making, the conditions for such processing, or the safeguards for individual rights like human intervention and the right to contest decisions. Art. 24 — Responsibility of the controller

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.4 – Controller & processor

Severity: warning Status: partial

Score: 44/100

Risk: medium

Gaps

- The policy does not explicitly mention the implementation of data protection policies as required by Article 24(2).
- There is no clear indication of how the company reviews and updates its technical and organisational measures to ensure and demonstrate compliance with data protection regulations, as mandated by Article 24(1).

Evidence

- We collect data through cookies and similar technologies.

Notes

The policy demonstrates some technical and organisational measures for data processing, such as using cookies, device information, and IP addresses, and obtaining consent for precise location data. It also mentions improving services and notifying users of material changes in data collection or usage. However, it does not explicitly detail a policy for data protection or a structured process for reviewing and updating security measures to ensure ongoing compliance and demonstrate accountability as required by GDPR Article 24. Art. 30 — Records of processing (ROPA)

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.4 – Controller & processor

Severity: warning Status: partial

Score: 52/100

Risk: medium

Gaps

- The policy does not explicitly state the existence of a ROPA, nor does it detail its contents for purposes, categories of data subjects, categories of recipients, retention periods, or security measures.

Evidence

- We collect data through cookies and similar technologies.

Notes

The provided policy text describes various data collection and usage practices, including the types of data collected (e.g., IP addresses, device information, cookies, message content, data from third-party services) and some of the purposes for processing (e.g., personalization, ad relevance, service improvement, facilitating connections). However, it does not explicitly confirm the existence of a formal Record of Processing Activities (ROPA) as required by GDPR Article 30. Gaps

- The company policy does not specify whether the processing of personal data requires regular and systematic monitoring of data subjects on a large scale or if it involves the processing of special categories of data or data relating to criminal convictions.
- The company policy does not provide contact details for a Data Protection Officer (DPO).

Evidence

- If you object to any changes, you may close your account.
- You provide data to create an account with us.

Notes

The policy does not provide sufficient information to determine if a DPO is required under Article 37(1)(b) or (c), nor does it provide the contact details for a DPO as required by Article 37(7). The nature of LinkedIn's services (social network for professionals) suggests it might engage in large-scale monitoring or processing of special categories of data, but this is not explicitly stated or detailed in the provided text.

Art. 39 — DPO tasks

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.4 – Controller & processor

Severity: warning Status: partial

Score: 28/100

Risk: high

Gaps

- The policy does not detail the specific tasks of the Data Protection Officer (DPO) regarding advising on data protection obligations, monitoring compliance, involvement in Data Protection Impact Assessments (DPIAs), or cooperation with supervisory authorities. It is unclear if these core DPO responsibilities are formally assigned and documented.
- There is no mention of how the DPO monitors compliance with data protection regulations, including staff training, awareness-raising, or conducting audits.
- The policy does not specify the DPO's role or involvement in Data Protection Impact Assessments (DPIAs).
- There is no information regarding the DPO's responsibility to cooperate with supervisory authorities.

Notes

The provided policy text does not contain specific information about the Data Protection Officer's tasks as required by Article 39 of the GDPR. Art. 45 — Adequacy decision transfers

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.5 – Transfers to third countries

Severity: warning Status: partial

Score: 52/100

Risk: medium

Gaps

- The policy does not specify if LinkedIn has conducted an adequacy assessment for any countries it transfers data to, nor does it mention any specific mechanisms like Standard Contractual Clauses or Binding Corporate Rules.

Notes

The policy mentions "Designated Countries" which are EU, EEA, and Switzerland. However, it does not provide information on adequacy decisions as required by Article 45, nor does it mention any other transfer mechanisms for data transfers outside these areas. Therefore, the assessment is partial.

Art. 46 — Transfers with safeguards

Priority: p3 Chapter: Ch.5 – Transfers to third countries

Severity: critical Status: missing

Score: 0/100

Notes

The provided text does not mention Standard Contractual Clauses (SCCs), Binding Corporate Rules (BCRs), or any other safeguards related to international data transfers, which are the core topics of Article 46 of the GDPR.

The text focuses on data collection, usage, and sharing within the service and with third-party advertisers and partners, but not on the specific legal mechanisms for safeguarding data during international transfers.

Art. 77 — Right to lodge a complaint

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.8 – Remedies, liability & penalties

Severity: critical Status: fail

Score: 0/100

Risk: high

Gaps

- Policy does not inform data subjects of their right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority.
- Policy does not inform data subjects of how to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority.

Notes

The policy does not contain any information regarding the data subject's right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority, nor does it provide any information on how to do so. This directly impacts the data subject's ability to exercise their rights under GDPR Article 77.

Art. 88 — Employment context

Priority: p2 Chapter: Ch.9 – Specific processing situations

Severity: warning Status: partial

Score: 28/100

Risk: medium

Gaps

- Recruitment
- Performance of the contract of employment
- Health and safety data
- Termination of the employment relationship

Evidence

- Our Services allow you to explore careers, evaluate educational opportunities, and seek out, and be found for, career opportunities.

- Your profile can be found by those looking to hire (for a job or a specific task) or be hired by you.

- We will use your data to recommend jobs to you and you to recruiters.

Notes

The policy mentions using data for career opportunities, job recommendations, and searching for candidates, which touches on recruitment and talent management. However, it does not explicitly cover other aspects of the employment context such as performance of employment contract, health and safety, or termination of employment. Therefore, the policy is only partially compliant.

Art. 90 — Obligations of secrecy

Priority: p4 Chapter: Ch.9 – Specific processing situations

Severity: warning Status: triggered (HIL)

Evidence

- Regulated Members may need to store communications outside of our Service.

Notes

The policy mentions 'legal or professional compliance' and provides an example of a 'financial advisor' needing to 'archive communications... in order to maintain her professional financial advisor license', which aligns with the professional secrecy aspect of Article 90.
